

Presbyterian Cocktail

...drink reverently. The Caledonian Society has a healthy number of upright Presbyterians whose ancestors worshipped in the reformed Church of Scotland. We couldn't get an official blessing for this libation from the Presbytery of South Louisiana, but you can trust Clan Mackintosh.

By Clan Mackintosh Cooks via Christopher Albright

ingredients:

- Lemon
- 1 oz. bourbon
- Club soda
- Ginger ale

directions:

- Rim a tall highball glass with a lemon twist and drop into glass
- Add bourbon
- Fill with equal portions of club soda and ginger ale
- Stir

Note: Bourbon was invented by Elijah Craig in 1789 in Bourbon County, Kentucky. His parents were Scots.

